LITTLE LISA Kendall, age 4, found the way to beat the 92-degree heat in Greencastle Monday. She just created a little humidity of her own, but in a cooler and more con-densated state than the dampness that slogged the air around her. Predicted thunder showers and a cooling trend failed to materialize this morning, so relax, and wait.

County women head for Purdue

Some 1,300 women from throughout Indiana have registered for the annual Homemakers' Conference June 11-13 at Purdue University. Theme of the event is "Looking Toward The Year 2000."

Representing Putnam County for the three days will be Mrs. Paul Aker, Mrs. Jack Torr, Mrs. William Perkins, Mrs. Everett Ellis, and Betty H. Sendmeyer, Area Extension Agent.

The annual meeting of the Indiana Extension Homemakers Association will be held the final day of the conference. One thousand delegates representing the 60,000 members of Indiana home demonstration clubs will hold their day-long session in the Hall of Music. Officers for 1969 will be elected.

Eighty-five representatives from 50 counties will compete in a spelling bee to be held during the first two days of the Homemakers' Conference. The championship spell-off will be at 4 p.m., June 12, in Loeb Playhouse of Memorial Center. Both are members of the Brick Chapel Extension Homemakers' Club.

Begin summer rec programs

Looking for something to do? The school recreation program in Greencastle started Monday, with something for everyone scheduled.

The agenda for a summer of fun includes softball, baseball, card games, tennis, basketball, and arts and crafts.

Tennis and tennis instruction at Bowman Courts is slated for 10 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Playground schedules are follows: Northeast School, 9 a.m., daily; Ridpath, 1 p.m., daily; and Robe Ann, 1 p.m., daily; and 7 p.m. each evening.

"Oldtimers" are invited to play softball each Tuesday evening at 6:30. If enough interested persons attend, teams will be organized.

If ladies would like to play softball one night each week, they are urged to contact Mr. Cooper, OL 3-6670. A reminder: Don't let age be a determining factor.

Families can enjoy summer fun together each Monday evening at Northeast School and each Thursday evening at Ridpath. Recreation planned includes cards, and games.

Babe Ruth League action begins Tuesday evening at 5:30 p.m., with Elks meeting Kiwanis.

The junior high basketball team will tangle with Zionsville, here, at 6:30 p.m. June 11. The team will meet Fountain Central, here, June 14 at 6:30 p.m. The games will be in the high school gymnasium.

The high school baseball team played at Cloverdale Monday night.

Sessions in arts and crafts will be conducted each day in the junior high school basement from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Fire fighters fight the heat

The hot and muggy temperatures of Monday were not ideal for fighting fires. But the Greencastle Fire Department was called out three times to control minor blazes.

At 10:52 a.m. the fire department made a run to the P.R. Mallory Co., where a 55-gallon drum of alcohol was on fire.

At 1:02 p.m. a back draft in a chimney brought a call from the Paul Murphy residence.

A 1960 Dodge Dart, owned by Richard Wood, was damaged by fire at 7:25 p.m. Damage was estimated at $25.00.

Blaiberg relapse mars heart transplant success

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, has suffered a "relapse" from a liver complication and fluid around his heart, spokes-

British heart patient better

LONDON (UPI)—Frederick West, 45, Britain's first heart transplant patient, fought for his life today against a chest infection which attacked him over the weekend.

National Heart Hospital said a slight improvement West showed Monday night "has been maintained."

West's condition took a turn for the worse early Monday. But Monday night West's son Michael said his father seemed a little better.

West received the heart of a construction worker May 3.

Stop and frisk laws upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court's latest decision in the police powers versus personal rights controversy is in favor of the police officer, deviating from the recent trend toward tighter restrictions on law enforcement.

In its next-to-last decision day before summer recess, the court ruled 8 to 1 Monday that police may stop and "frisk" a subject for dangerous weapons if they reasonably fear harm is intended toward themselves or others.

The ruling comes at a time when the court is under heavy public criticism for allegedly putting the "rights of criminals" ahead of the rights of law-abiding citizens in a series of decisions over the last two years.

Culminating the criticism was an attack on the court by Congress through a bill now on President Johnson's desk. It was designed to overturn certain court rulings that narrowed the circumstances under which confessions and eyewitness testimony would be admissible as evidence.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said in a qualifying the majority opinion, Monday, that the policeman must have a reasonable suspicion that the person he searches is armed and dangerous and that "criminal activity may be afoot."

Citing the frequency of armed violence in the nation and the number of law officers wounded or killed annually, Warren said: "We cannot blind ourselves to the need for law enforcement officers to protect themselves and other prospective victims of violence in situations where they may lack probable cause for an arrest."

Other Actions

In other actions, the court: Upheld the authority of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to regulate the multi-million dollar Community Antenna Television (CATV) industry. It ruled the FCC did not exceed its authority by blocking expansion of a CATV operation in San Diego so that hearings could be held.

Agreed to hear next term an appeal of a state court order limiting picketing by three unions to a single entrance of the Jacksonville, Fla., railway terminal.

In the 6-3 decision upholding New York's textbook loan law Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas dissented.

The test case—first of its kind in 20 years—was brought to the court by the school board of East Greenbush, a suburb of Albany, and school officials in Rensselaer, Columbia and Nassau Counties.

Complete biography

LONDON (UPI)—Researchers will go ahead with Randolph Churchill's biography of Sir Winston S. Churchill despite the younger Churchill's recent death, the former prime minister's grandson said today.

men for Groote Schuur hospital said today.

The condition of the 58-year-old retired South African dentist is "causing doctors some concern," a hospital bulletin said. Sources at the hospital said Blaiberg's pulse rate had weakened.

Members of the surgical team of Dr. Christian Barnard, the pioneer South African heart transplant surgeon, rushed to the hospital. Barnard, himself, was in London and he scheduled a flight back to Cape Town today.

Routine Tests Scheduled

Blaiberg, who received the heart of a 24-year-old factory worker Jan. 2, had entered the hospital June 1 for routine medical progress tests. He was in good condition at the time and drove himself to the hospital.

The spokesman said the exact cause of the liver complication was not known. They said Blaiberg also had "pericardial effusion" — fluid around the heart.

Six of the world's 21 heart transplant patients still are living. In addition to Blaiberg, two are in Houston, Tex., one in France, one in England and one in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Earlier hospital spokesmen had said Blaiberg might have pneumonia. But the hospital bulletin issued later in the day made no mention of pneumonia.

Return Home Delayed

Blaiberg had been scheduled to return home last Friday but stayed on in the hospital ostensibly because his wife, Eileen, had a cold and doctors feared infection. Today Dr. B. M. Nel, superintendent of the hospital out-patient block, confirmed reports a member of the transplant team had been sleeping in Blaiberg's suite. He described Blaiberg's complications as "a setback."

Blaiberg received the heart of Clive Haupt who died of a stroke at a beach New Year's Day.

It was Barnard's second heart transplant operation. He performed the world's first in December upon Louis Washansky, a Cape Town grocer, who died 18 days later.

Westy gambled, saved West

SAIGON (UPI)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland today left the war he kept the Communists from winning but could not win himself.

He made no airport farewell speech before flying off in his T39 jet to become U.S. Army chief of staff.

He kept his goodbyes simple as he ended four years' command of American forces in Vietnam.

But the departure bore marks of triumph for the tall general with the bushy eyebrows.

Spectators at Tan Son Nhut Airport could hear Westmoreland say only two words to his successor, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams: "Good luck."

A South Vietnamese band played "Auld Lang Syne." U.S., South Vietnamese, Thai, South Korean, Philippines, Australian and New Zealand officers shook his hand. It was a far cry from 1964.

According to U.S. officials, when Westmoreland came to South Vietnam the guerrilla armies were within an eyelash of complete victory. It was the nadir of the West in Vietnam.

Westmoreland gambled on rushing into South Vietnam the massive U.S. forces needed to stem the Red tide. Despite the advice of lieutenants, he brought in the troops well before the supply bases were secured. He won his gamble, and so did the West.

First in the Central Highlands, then in the Saigon area and finally on the North Vietnam border, the Red armies were stopped, shattered and sent fleeing. They came back, and they are still here.

Only five hours before Westmoreland left Viet Cong terror gunners ravaged rush hour streets with rocket and mortar fire that killed 19 civilians and wounded 67. But, according to

Contract for bridge

Putnam County Commissioners Monday awarded E.E. Huber and Sons, Cloverdale, the contract to rebuild Byrd Branch Bridge No. 14 in Russell Township.

Commissioners' secretary County Auditor Eston Cooper said the bid of $14,236.60 was the only received on the bridge project.

The Huber figures was $25 lower than one submitted May 27 by the same firm. At that time the bridge construction job was readvertised, as the single bid was deemed to be high.

An engineer's estimate of $13,560 has since been revised to $14,474, according to Cooper's figures.

Student takeover

ANKARA (UPI) — Ankara University students took over a faculty building Monday night as part of their demand for more rights, representatives in the school's administration and more facilities for graduate students.

Peace try

LONDON (UPI) — Britain tried to get Nigerian War negotiations started again Monday night when Lord Shepherd, commonwealth minister of state, held a private meeting with Sir Louis Mbanefo, chief negotiator for the secessionist state of Biafra.

IT'S A CATCHY BUSINESS—Lori Fredrick (front) and Jeff Flint (89) enjoy summer recreation at Northeast School.

Fluoride treatments given to students

Because dental research indicates fluoride makes the teeth less vulnerable to acid, and thus to decay, children of school age in Putnam County were exposed to special treatments last week.

The Putnam-County Dental Health Committee, in cooperation with the Dental Division of the State Board of Health, and with the approval of the Putnam County Dental Society sponsored a week of fluoride treatments. Children, of selected ages throughout the county, were invited to visit the mobile unit and temporary dental "offices" for the fluoride treatments.

During the week nearly 450 children underwent the "optional" treatments.

Four school corporation nurses, the public health nurse and many parents joined forces to stage the program for better dental health. In acknowledgement of the help and cooperation, Mrs. Theoline Bee, school nurse for the North Putnam Community School Corporation and president of the county health committee, made the following statement: "More than 100 persons community-wide deserve special appreciation for their efforts, many

DEAR HELOISE:

Perhaps you can help me. Starched handkerchiefs for men's business suits should be stiff but not scorched. My wife has a devil of a time trying to iron them without scorching them.

Do you have any suggestions? Please do not print my name or my wife will use her flat iron to flatten my head!

No Name

DEAR FOLKS:

Though this is a Letter of Laughter (and I laughed hard), I do have an answer.

After washing and lightly starching a beautiful handkerchief and while it is still completely wet, spread it out on the bathroom mirror, refrigerator door, shower door or any window pane. Smooth it out with your hands by gently rubbing it so that it will become flat and stick to the surface without any wrinkles.

It will NOT fall off, when wet or dry. The starch takes care of this little matter. (Another laugh: Works the same without starch!)

It will dry as quick as a whistle.

Then gently pull the handkerchief away from the flat surface and it will be unscorched (this is especially for you and your wife, sir), and may be folded beautifully by placing it on a flat surface and creasing it with your fingernail!

This not only eliminates scorching and ironing time but every little grain and fiber of the material will look as if it were brand new since it has not been flattened by a hot iron.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

To save cooking time later, I cook a double quantity of spaghetti sauce (that's what takes the time - cooking the spaghetti itself is easy) and freeze it in a large FLAT pan (11"x13") lined with foil.

After the sauce is frozen, I remove it from the pan, wrap in plastic and "file" the block of spaghetti sauce in foil in the freezer.

It will fit along the side of the freezer wall, or on the "floor," with countless things on top of it. Sometimes I do this with soup.

Then when I want to use it, I just crack off as much of the block as I want. It's easy and thaw quickly because it's thin. The rest is returned to the freezer.

No need to thaw and heat a whole thick block.

Susie-Q

DEAR HELOISE:

I made a wonderful garden kneeling pad from a lot of crushed-up plastic bags placed inside two good strong ones. Weather doesn't bother it and it's soft to kneel on for weeding.

It's a real joy!

Mrs. Roger J. Whiteford

Please take note: She said plastic. These are heavier than ploom. We know to keep thin plastic bags out of the reach of children.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is a lifesaver, if there was ever one, for people who wash their painted walls before repainting them.

Use a squeeze mop and warm detergent water in one bucket and have fresh water in another bucket.

Wash the walls and ceiling as you would your floors.

The greatest, and such a timesaver. Better paint job, too.

Mr. J. Kravick

And keep the rinse water CLEAN.

Soiled rinse water only puts the dirt right back on your walls and also causes streaks.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

When arranging cut flowers, some of the stems are often too small to fit snugly into the holes of the frog. So they either tilt or fall out of the container.

To eliminate this problem, I cut green drinking straws into short lengths and place them in the frog holes before inserting the flower stems.

They fit into the straws easily and will stay put.

Franz-Richardson wedding vows exchanged

Karen Ann Richardson and Eric Leigh Franz were united in marriage Saturday during an 8 p.m. ceremony in the Clayton Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Robert Falconer officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Richardson, of Clayton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Barrett, of Greencastle, and the late Earl Franz.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor-length gown of mellow-white pure silk organza, enhanced with imported Alencon lace. The modified empire style was fashioned with a scooped neckline and a detachable, chapel-length train. The mother of the bride made the wedding gown.

A circlet of lace secured the bride's veil of silk illusion. She wore a cameo necklace worn by her mother for her wedding and carried a white Bible topped with a cathedral cascade arrangement of yellow roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Neva Tolbert, of Mitchell, was maid of honor. Miss Jill Troyer, of Terre Haute, Miss Diana Hampton and Miss Beverly Bernhardt, both of Clayton, were bridesmaids. The bride attendants were attired in floor-length gowns of aqua mist, trimmed with white cotton lace.

Miss Dawn Rogers, of Plainfield, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown styled similar to the bride's gown styled similar to the bride's, turquoise in color.

Each attendant carried a single yellow rose.

David Logan, of Terre Haute, was best man, Alan Richardson, brother of the bride, Lance Rogers, of Cincinnati, Ohio, cousin of the bride, and Norman Blum, of Danville, were groomsmen.

Bridal music was provided by Mrs. John R. Edmondson, organist, and Miss Andrea Hudson, of Anderson, who sang "The 23rd Psalm" and "A Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held with Mrs. Arthur Blum Jr., Miss Patty Mitchell, of Clayton, and Miss Theresa Wildman, of Martinsville, assisting. Mrs. Melvin Daniels, of Coatesville, was guest registrar.

The bride attended Indiana State University. The bridegroom attended the University of Southern Oregon and Indiana State University. He is serving in the U.S. Air Force, stationed at Hurlburt Field, Fla.

The couple will reside in Florida.

Engaged

The engagement of Carol Jean Kieffaber to Danny Michael Duell is announced by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kieffaber, of Reelsville.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Duell, of Indianapolis.

The couple is planning an October wedding.

Mildred Sinclair hosts club

Thursday afternoon Mildred Sinclair was hostess to the West Marion Home Extension Club.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. James Hockema, president. Devotions were given by Mrs. Bryon Bemis, who read a poem she wrote concerning the tragedy of the death of Robert F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Bemis also reviewed the history of the song of the month "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The roll call was answered by 11 members giving a rule for happy marriage.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCullough presented an interesting and informative lesson on the selection and care of lingerie. She stated that since as long ago as 500 B.C., women have worn some type of foundation garment. Styles change as the styles of dress change.

The next meeting will be family night, July 12 at 6:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Gary Karasick. Each member was asked to take a covered dish and meat. The rummage sale was postponed until August 10.

Safe landing

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A Lake Central commercial airliner, flight 592, landed safely at Weir-Cook Municipal Airport here Monday night despite the loss of one of its four wheels.

Airline spokesmen said the Convair 580 lost the inner-right wheel upon take-off from St. Louis, but landed in Indianapolis as scheduled about 9:00 p.m. None of the 27 passengers was injured. Airport officials were alerted to the plane's difficulty and had emergency equipment available at the time of landing.

Buckeye comes from the Indian word "hetuck" meaning the eye of the buck deer.

Rain likely

By United Press International
The season's first hot spell droned into its second week in Indiana today, but some relief was expected Wednesday.

The mercury barged into the 90s from Lake Michigan to the Ohio River Sunday. It hit 90 at Lafayette even before noon today as highs ranging from 87 to 95 were forecast for today and Tuesday.

However, the likelihood of thunderstorms beginning this afternoon and continuing through Tuesday night seemed to be increasing from hour to hour, and the outlook for Wednesday after the storms passed was "fair and pleasant with highs around 80."

All Corn

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What's in a name? Corn is corn to Americans, but when an Englishman says "corn" he means wheat. A Dutchman calls corn "Turkish wheat" and the Turks call it "Egyptian corn." Africans say "mealies" and the French say "maïs." Referring to the Bible uses the word "corn" it means grain — corn wasn't grown in the Old World in Biblical times.

Stern Critic

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina (UPI)—Curious bystanders asked why Domingo Santiaño, owner of a restaurant in this ocean resort, beat up his leading musician and smashed his guitar.

"He was a bad guitar player and a worse singer," Santiago replied.

Opening lead—king of spades.

You sometimes run into hands seemingly impossible to make, only to discover later that they could have been made. This deal is from that family.

West leads the king of spades and continues with the ace, which you ruff. There appears to be very little to the play of the hand—you either make it or you don't, depending on which opponent has the king of clubs.

So you lead the queen of clubs and finesse when West follows low. The finesse wins, but it's a mixed blessing—East shows out of clubs. This means that West has a trump trick coming, since he started with four to the king and there seems to be no way of trapping the king.

Apparently your only chance now is to avoid a heart loser, but this is a farfetched hope, considering your heart holding.

The situation looks highly unpromising, but, if you consider the matter more deeply, another faint glimmer of hope emerges. You might be able to do West out of his trump trick.

You lead the jack of clubs and West ducks again. Obviously he's no friend of yours or he would have covered it with the king. You then cash three diamonds, ending in dummy. Next you ruff a spade, reducing your trump holding to the 10-9.

Now you play the A-K and another heart. Fortunately, East wins the heart as West follows suit.

Your efforts are now rewarded, since the contract is firmly in the bag. With two tricks to go, you have two trumps left and so does West. Dummy at this point has the ace of clubs and ten of hearts.

East must lead a spade or a diamond. Whichever he plays, you ruff. It doesn't matter what West does. His trump trick disappears. The king is smothered.

Parnelli Jones buys Granatelli turbine racer

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Parnelli Jones climbed back in the racing limelight Monday when he purchased one of Andy Granatelli's now-famous turbine-powered race cars.

Jones, who led the 1967 Indianapolis "500" race in one of the turbine machines before it conked out, bought the car that this year quit running with driver Joe Leonard at the wheel—and, like Jones, in the lead at the time.

Granatelli and Jones announced the transaction jointly, and added that Leonard will continue to drive the turbine car on the USAC's racing circuit. Jones appears to be carrying the banner for turbine-powered cars in their struggle to remain with the USAC tour in competition with piston-powered machines. USAC's board of directors is expected to have much to say about the turbine's future in racing later this month.

Race driver is improved

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (UPI)—Race driver Norm Brown of Detroit was listed Monday in "improved, but still serious" condition and driver Bay Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., was reported in "satisfactory condition" at West Allis Memorial Hospital.

The men are luckier than the third man who was involved in a three-car crash up in Sunday's Rex Mays Memorial Race here. Ronnie Duman will be buried Thursday morning in Speedway, Ind.

Brown, 31, was trapped in his car in the accident which occurred on the third lap of the race. His gas tank was full and the flames were hard to extinguish, erupting three different times after the crash. Fire-fighting foam was sprayed into wreckage, probably saving Brown's life. He suffered second and third degree burns over 40 per cent of his body.

Darnell, 38, was even more fortunate. He escaped from his car as it burst into flames and was burned only on the hands and knees.

Duman, the sixth-place finisher at this year's Indianapolis "500," died of head injuries when his car rolled several times.

Jones admits that he was one of the first "converts" to the innovating engine. "The turbines, combined with four-wheel drive, are simply a better, safer, more economical way to go racing," Jones said. "I was the first convert to the idea of this total package because I was the first to drive such a car."

He said every man who races a turbine "agrees they are the safest, most efficient development in the history of our sport."

Jones said he will join Granatelli's campaign to put the car before the public and advance its virtues in auto racing. Granatelli proposes to supply drivers with turbine cars should they want them.

"We believe many other car owners are interested in turbines because of their simplicity, low maintenance costs and superior safety features," Granatelli said. "The simple economics of turbine racing over an entire season cannot be ignored."

Sports

The City All-Stars defeated Morrison's Tire by a score of 14 - 3 in an exhibition softball game Sunday at Robe-Ann Park. Home runs by Phil Cooper, Lannie Allee and Steve Payne led the All-Stars hitting attack. Dale Williams was the winning pitcher.

Powell's operation is factor in his playing

Harry Dalton's pre-season operation has turned out so successfully that even Boog Powell no longer feels the pain.

Powell was an unhappy patient when the Baltimore Orioles' director of personnel insisted that the big first baseman take a pay cut last spring. Powell held out for a while but then went under the knife to the tune of about $3,000—modest enough surgery considering his .234 batting average, 13 homers and 55 runs batted in for the 1967 season.

But now the 250-pound Boog is off to the fastest start of his career with a .250 batting average, eight homers and 37 runs batted in and able to quip, "I'm always happy when I'm hitting my weight this early in the season." Powell has been a notorious slow starter throughout his career even when he was one of the American League's most dangerous sluggers in 1966.

DPU Basketball Camp

Four Greencastle boys are enrolled in DePauw University's eleventh annual pre-high school basketball camp. The camp opens for two one-week sessions June 16 and June 23 on the Greencastle campus.

The local boys are Joe Franklin, 317 Redbud Lane, June 16-22; Tim Atchley, 728 Crescent; Rex Baker, R.R. 2; and Jerry Shonkwiler, 616 E. Franklin, June 23-29.

The camp will be conducted by DePauw's head basketball coach Elmer McCall, producer of two state high school basketball champions at South Bend (Ind.) Central High School and an Indiana Collegiate Conference champion this year at DePauw.

The one-week camp offers daily sessions in the fundamentals of basketball as well as intramural league games in the evenings. Recreational activity also is scheduled in bowling, swimming, ping pong, and tennis for the 60 campers who will be entering grades six through nine this fall.

Sharing the billing with McCall again this summer will be five successful Hoosier high school coaches. They will conduct drills and present lectures to the aspiring young basketball stars.

Powell drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning, broke a 1-1 tie when he singled home Curt Motton, who had doubled, in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Curt Blefary in the sixth as the Orioles beat the Senators for the eighth straight time this season.

Jim Hardin pitched a four-hitter, struck out three and walked none in raising his record to 8-2.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Oakland Athletics 7-2 and the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees 5-2 in other American League games. In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Atlanta Braves 4-3, the San Francisco Giants downed the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-0, the Chicago Cubs beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 and the New York Mets edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 in 10 innings.

Gun tightening prospects nil

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's urgent request for tighter control on gun sales triggered fresh controversy in Congress today, but prospects for action remained nil.

For one thing, the House, in quick reaction to the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, already has rushed to the President's desk, as part of a Senate-fashioned anticrime bill, a measure to outlaw mail order sale of handguns and limit over-the-counter sales to state residents 21 or over.

On behalf of the President, who had sought much more to begin with, administration supporters Monday introduced special legislation to extend the mail order ban to rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., called his House Judiciary

Committee into closed session today to consider the new measure. But although Celler is a supporter, a number on his panel were inclined to the cautious approach.

The Senate leadership of both parties appeared, by their initial coolness to the administration plea, to have buried the issue so far as that body is concerned.

Some pro-control mail was reported coming to House members since the Kennedy killing, but nothing like the flood that gun control sponsors have sought. And in the absence of strong clamoring from back home, most congressmen are not anxious to stick their necks out on the controversial issue.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana promised consideration of Johnson's new bill, but said its main effect would be against law-abiding citizens owning weapons for protection or recreation.

Mansfield's comments reflected a prevalent view among many members, especially those from the western states where the frontier tradition dies hard and where hunting is universal.

Cassius Clay loses court appeal

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay Monday lost his appeal for a rehearing of his conviction for refusing induction into the armed forces before the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court's refusal means Clay's only legal route left is to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Clay had asked for a rehearing by all of the circuit's 13 judges sitting together as a body.

But Circuit Judges Robert A. Ainsworth Jr., James P. Coleman and David W. Dyer, meeting as a panel, upheld Clay's conviction in May 6 ruling which rejected his argument he was a conscientious objector because he was an ordained minister of the Black Muslim Church.

The court rejected the request but did not issue an opinion.

Clay was convicted in June 1967 of refusing induction in Houston and was sentenced to five years in prison. He is currently free on bond.
